

To whom it may concern,

I would like to personally recommend to any Fedex contractor or ISP who is looking to sell his or her routes Kyle Rohner of KR Capital. Kyle was able to sell my ISP quickly because he had many potential buyers ready to go. I had used other brokers in the past with commission rates that were outrageous and they never got the job done. Kyle got the job done with the first buyer. The key with Kyle is that he specializes in Fedex routes. He is better able to inform potential buyers because of his experience with the Fedex system. His knowledge of the Fedex independent contractors and ISP's is extensive so he is able to line up the right buyers. I had been trying to sell my ISP for several years with no success until I met Kyle. He was able to find the right buyer with the very first referral and we closed at the end of October. His commission rate is more than fair and there are no long contracts to tie you up. Again to any contractor or ISP who are looking to sell their routes there is no one that I could recommend more than Kyle Rohner of KR Capital.

Thanks
