To Whom It May Concern:

We recently used the services of Kyle Rohner to sell four FedEx routes, and we highly recommend him to other contractors/ISP's who are interested in selling. Kyle was extremely ambitious, organized and motivated throughout the entire process. He quickly found us several serious leads who were all willing to pay top dollar for our routes. He was in constant contact with us, as well as the potential buyers. Our sale happened very quickly and Kyle made sure the entire process went smoothly. We will never try to sell routes on our own again. Kyle produced a very large pool of serious buyers who we could have never reached on our own. His fee was very fair, especially considering how much more we were able to get for our routes by using his services. We highly recommend him, and we look forward to doing business with him again in the future.

Sincerely,

Amber Kangas and Randy Ray
